1st Annual
WOMEN IN MEDICINE SYMPOSIUM

Inspiring female physicians to be engaged leaders in their practices, organizations and communities.

Thursday, December 1st
7:00 am – 5:00 pm

$99 Early Bird registration (ends Nov. 1)
$129 Regular registration
$59 Medical students and residents

Creighton University
Mike & Josie Harper Center
602 N 20th St.
Omaha, NE 68102

This one-day symposium will feature a networking breakfast, luncheon, and cocktail reception. Learn alongside your peers on lessons in leadership, business, and career success.

GENERAL SESSIONS:
• In Between Failure: Overcoming Adversities to Achieve Professional Success
• The Forgotten Balance Sheet: Understanding and Leveraging this Financial Powerhouse
• Lean Out: Negotiation for Women in Healthcare Leadership
• Entrepreneurship and Risk: Lessons from a Successful Founder and Executive
• Lessons in Leadership Panel

PRESENTERS:
• Sasha K. Shilclut, MD
• Sandy Lane, CPA
• Mary Lee Brock, MEd
• Jacqueline Font-Guzman, MHA, PhD, JD
• Sue Thaden
• Shirley L. Huerter, MD

JAMIE COLEMAN, MD
Keynote Speaker

Dr. Coleman is an Assistant Professor of Surgery and the Director of Media and Public Relations for the Department of Surgery at Indiana University in Indianapolis. She is a trauma and an acute care surgeon as well as a wife, mother, and writer. Her popular blog, www.heelskicksscalpel.com and social media presence have cultivated a strong global following. And, she’s been a well known voice in the #ilooklikeasurgeon movement. Jamie has contributed to and been featured in the Huffington Post, Forbes, KevinMD, and LinkedIn.

Keynote Lecture: I’m Sorry I’m Not Sorry: Gender Differences in Communication, and Lessons for Success

Register online at business.creighton.edu/WIMSsymposium